

Here, we show the vowels before and after positional adjustment using OpenType mark-to-base positioning. Vowels positioned using anchor point values are shown with a small box around them, non-adjusted vowels are shown in blue.

Adjusted and default vowel positions: The image shows the Arabic words 'هَمْزَةٌ' (hamza) and 'وَصَلٌ' (wasal) in a stylized font. The vowels are marked with small boxes and blue dots. The first vowel in 'هَمْزَةٌ' is blue and has a box, while the others are black. In 'وَصَلٌ', the first vowel is blue and has a box, while the others are black.
